

Krzysztof Marczewski is Head of the Department of Ethics at the Skubiszewski Medical University of Lublin and Chief Supervisor of the Department of Nephrology, Endocrinology, Metabolic and Internal Medicine at the Johan Paul the II Regional Hospital and Dean of the Faculty at the College of Management and Public Administration in Zamość. His major fields of scientific interests are nephrology, internal medicine, medical ethics and bioethics. He is the author or co-author of 2 books and over 130 scientific articles and papers.

A practicing physician since 1981, he became a Professor of Medicine in 2003 and received his habilitation in 1995. He was a Visiting Fellow (DAAD) 1989-1991 (Cologne, Germany), 1997 (Dusseldorf, Germany), Visiting Professor (DAAD) 2005 (Aachen, Germany.) He is also the organizer or president of various events in the field of medical ethics and philosophy of medicine in Poland.